On the Subject of Infinite Loops

The end is never the end is never the end is never the end.

- A six letter word will be flashing in morse code on loop.
- There will be no indication on when one letter ends and when one begins.
- There will be no indication on when the word loops.
- Type in the word that is shown into the display using
- the arrow buttons. The module will automatically submit once three seconds have passed without any input.
